Mellie and Gram, left, Monday, for So-journ in the Sunny South.

Mellie and "Gram" Dunham started Monday morning for Alhambra, Fla., where they will play a theatrical engagement and act as judges in a fiddlers contest. They stopped in Boston and New York to talk over and perhaps close a business deal. These entertainers will remain South two weeks or more.

PENNESSEWASSEE LODGE OFFICERS

Last Thursday night the officers of Pennessewasse Lodge, No. 18, K. of P., installed officers, the installing officer being Fred M. Davis, about two weeks on a painting job.

Donna Merrill has been ill the past week and Miss Gladys Damon has taken her place at Greenleaf's Cafe.

St. Barry Locke of Ogden, Utah, was the speaker, Thursday at the Kiwanis Club at the Universalist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Seabury of Yarmouth spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Curtis.

St. Merion Wyman and Rust Jackson were drawn Saturday for the traverse jury of Superior Court at South Paris.

Ed. D. Gibson, local manager of the W. P. Tabbs Snow-Shoe Co., returned early from a business trip to Cleveland, Ohio.

W. W. Ripley finished filling the ice house by the shore of the lake on Sunday. Ice was about seventeen inches thick and good quality.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Newcomb were called to Oxtield, Wednesday, by the death of his sister, Mrs. Jessie Taylor. Mrs. Lo-sier has been in failing health for several years.

Mark P. Smith has moved from the Shuman house to the home of his mother, Mrs. Hattie Smith. Mr. Smith is cutting wood back of Pike Hill for Frank Gammon.

Fred E. Smith was chosen cashier of the Norway National Bank at the recent annual meeting of the directors. By accident, his name was omitted in our report last week.

Scoutmaster Alfred Dyer has resigned his leadership as Scoutmaster of Troop No. 1, Norway. Carlton Leboke has accepted the position and is sure to be popular with the boys.

Edward Luck, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Luck, is able to attend school again. He fell the first of December and broke his leg. This is the second time he has the same leg in seven months.

Shortie Cook is certain he is lied about in this paper. He hasn't two tons of feathers for fly-tying. Only two boxes containing feathers, bearing labels of "2-tones house." Somebody made a mistake.

Roy A. White has moved into one part of the Arcade Filling Station. His sewing machine agency and repair department is in the front part on the Whitman Street side. He also occupies rooms in the rear.

Allice Dyer's name has been chosen among the list of seniors by Dean Davies to write a theme on "Why I care for A. L. I." to be sent to prospective students over the country and prospective employers.

Sumner Skillings of Bolsters Mills says: "I have received word that Sumner O. Hancock of Casco, who is wintering in St. Petersburg, suffered a paralytic stroke on his 75th birthday—the first week in January."

Elizabeth Crockett Blake Tent, Daughters of Union Veterans will hold regular meeting Friday evening, the first time with the newly elected officers. Full rehearsal will be in order. Committees for the year will be appointed.

Another snappy one arrived Thursday morning. Mercury hit sub-zero marks with a bang, and tonight a snowfall of 12 to 22 degrees below the cipher. The air was still and the cold didn't work into the houses to overtax heating plants.

Bob Seavey Writes Letter

He and Mrs. Seavey are at Redondo Beach, California. Post office address is South Catalina Avenue. They have two eastern parents, an apartment and an automobile. Waiting for the spring time to come and to return to the Seavey Tavern.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Carroll are at Alhambra, 30 miles from here. They visit and exchange papers. Mrs. Carroll has not fully recovered from her accident, but gets about exercising care and caution.

Bob says they had a nice trip out. Roads were good all the way. Weather the same. Only twice did it rain, one day in Massachusetts and in Kentucky.

They have had some cold weather, with nearly snow. A visit to the foothills showed plenty of snow. All the mountains around them were white. The like of which has not occurred for 35 years.

They called on the D. E. B. Club at Longjumeau, Cal. He and wife have been there for the past ten years and are liking the climate agreed with them. The D. E. B. Club is a group of men who have been in Maine since the late 1800s. Mr. and Mrs. Seavey enjoyed their visit there. The part closed.

Bob plans on stopping there another month and to return over the Old Spanish Trail via Florida. Expects to get home first week in April.

RAISING CHICKENS AND TURKEYS

Mrs. H. M. Jackson is wintering a flock of over two hundred 12 Red pullets, which are producing satisfactory results in vigor, thrift and good laying qualities this winter and the baskets full of eggs are being sold at 22 cents each day. Will repay her for the watchful care of her flock. Mrs. Jackson has been in the poultry business for nearly twenty years and always finds a big demand for her eggs from her customers.

This year she has headed her pens with breeding cockerels purchased at Orono, under the personal selection of her son, Alphonso Jackson, who is attending U. M. M. there.

Mr. M. there, a flock of about thirty selected pullets headed by one of these birds, who has a record behind him of 286 eggs in 365 days. The others are also of good laying strains, their ancestors producing 304-288 and 292 eggs in 365 days. She is mating these cockerels with some of her choicest pullets and will look forward to good results in the improvement of her flock.

Mrs. Jackson also has a turkey, which she will experiment with as she was expected last May and began laying in November and has laid all winter. She is watching water eggs from her turkeys she was much surprised on finding a nest of 14 turkey eggs so late in the fall and discovered that one of her young turkeys was laying. She hopes to breed turkeys which will be winter layers and become profitable both for eggs and poultry.

HIGH SCHOOL "PRIVOLITIES"

High school vaudeville numbers grouped under the name, "Privolities" were presented at Norway Opera House, Thursday evening, under the auspices of the musical club of Norway High School. Miss Eleanor Wood arranged and directed the numbers which were skillfully presented in professional style.

A prologue was a lively dialogue interspersed with songs by a male quartet, comprising Albert and Arthur Henley, Orin Noble and Stanley Lord.

Readings by Charlotte Longley were followed by a quartet of songs by the high school orchestra, "Three Gals and a Boy," "The Wind at Night" and "I Hear the Bells." A solo dance by Joyce Lord was nicely executed. Following this was a skit entitled, "Underneath a Parasol," parts taken by Ina Tervo, Laura Yates, Vera Noble, Stanley Lord, Jessie Noyes, Orin Noble and Arthur Henley.

Another skit, "Heart Breaking Gal," was put across by Violet Upton and Francis Noble. The Sharon sisters, Bertha and Alice, appeared in the "Bugging Lassies" and stepped to a fetching rhythm.

The male quartet appeared again in a pleasing number. Melodies of the Southland and "Goodbye, My Darling," were stepped out the song, "I Dance in My Sweet Little Alice Blue Gown." "On the Parade Ground" was carried out by Arthur Henley, Clifford Gallant, Don Green and Bobley Morrison.

Other readings by Charlotte Longley, an epilogue and high school song closed the program.

The proceeds will be used by the musical club. All parts were well taken and much credit is given to Miss Wood for this entertaining program.

DISTINGUISHED WOMAN AT TEMPERANCE RALLY

Mrs. Gordon Wright, president of the Canadian National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, delivered an address at a temperance rally in the Methodist Church, Thursday evening. The meeting was to celebrate the tenth anniversary of National prohibition and followed the jubilee held at Portland on January 15.

The opening exercises included a selection by the chorus choir; prayer by the pastor, Rev. John Singleton, and vocal solo by Mrs. Jessie Foss.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jordan, president of the Norway Union, extended greetings and a welcome to the distinguished visitor and called on Mrs. Elizabeth Morton of South Paris, who is the president of the South Paris Union.

Introducing the speaker, told of meeting Mrs. Wright at the World Union Convention in Switzerland last summer and inviting her to address the Union, if arrangements could be made.

Mrs. Wright is an orator of international fame and prominent in the political and social circles of the world. She has been for more than half a century a worker for the cause of the "woman's suffrage" and "government control." The facts and figures she forcefully presented indicate that Canada is the only country in the world which has given the woman the right to vote and to hold office.

Mrs. Wright is an orator of international fame and prominent in the political and social circles of the world. She has been for more than half a century a worker for the cause of the "woman's suffrage" and "government control." The facts and figures she forcefully presented indicate that Canada is the only country in the world which has given the woman the right to vote and to hold office.

The speaker, told of meeting Mrs. Wright at the World Union Convention in Switzerland last summer and inviting her to address the Union, if arrangements could be made.

Funeral Services Held for B. D. Knight—Page on Jury—Callers at Plummer's.

Benjamin D. Knight died at the home of Charles A. Saunders in this town, Jan.
1926, where he has been staying for the past eight weeks. He was given the best of care by Mr. and Mrs. Saunders, although he was a great sufferer, he never complained. He was born in Sweden, Apr.
28, 1860. He leaves one own brother, Frank Knight of Alfred, and two half brothers, Eldon Stevens of Tryeburg and Virgil Stevens of West Stoneham. Previous services were held on Sunday, conducted by Rev. Clifford V. Cross of Lovell. Interment was in the Hasskell cemetery.

Percy Grover and wife visited at E. S.
Plummer's, Sunday, Jan. 19th.

Walter Stover was sick at the home of P. S. Plummer, last week. A doctor from Lovell was called to attend him. He is better and out around now.

Work doesn't seem to progress very rapidly at the new mill on the Flint lot.

Jury Meeting was held at the Town House, Jan. 14th. Harold W. Page was drawn juror for the February term of court.

George Brown and Weeman McAl-ister, who had been in the Plumes January 14 leaving just returned from St. Petersburg, Florida.

Scott Wentworth has his mill located on the north side of Hill lot and is now running in full time.

Mrs. Frank C. Ridlon has four of the mill crew for boarders.

Two new families have moved into the Tupper houses.

Mrs. Queenie B. Ridlon entertained her mother, Mrs. Cora B. Rowe, and brother Harmon H. Rowe, and grandmother, Mrs.
Ada J. Burnell of West Baldwin, one day last week. Mr. and Mrs. Ridlon motored to Harrison, recently, to a card party held at Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stokes'. A fine time was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Mary Kneeland has been ill and has a doctor from Waterford. She is better now.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ridlon, who have bought the Will Marr farm and moved there this fall, seem to be getting along very good. He has four nice looking cows and a dozen hens that are laying from six to a dozen eggs each day. Mrs.
Ridlon makes butter and sells some milk.
They keep busy on their boarders. Frank is working at the mill sticking boards.
They are glad to see the houses filling up with such families as they are.

Mrs. Clayton Pike has installed a Crosley radio for the Ridlons.

Hasskell school closes this week for a vacation.

Simplicity
The dignified funeral service of today is one of simplicity. Fads and fancies are avoided. And yet, new innovations are continually making themselves felt. Responsibility in these matters rests, to a very large extent, with the mortician. His duty it is to use discriminating judgment in adopting the new and discarding the old. For the modern mortuary and the service of its personnel are the natural outgrowth of the accumulated experience of years.

Defective chimneys and heating apparatus are one of the principal causes of farm fires, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which recommends the following precautions: Chimneys should be built from the ground up and should not be used to support any part of the house. They should be cleaned frequently and with walls at least 8 inches thick. Defective chimneys should be rebuilt and faulty heating apparatus repaired. Stoves should rest on substantial fire-resistant bases and should be at safe distances from wooden floors, walls and woodwork. When stovepipes are passed through walls or ceilings a ventilating thimble of ample size should be used. Chimneys and flues should be kept in metal cans, never in wooden boxes, barrels or on combustible floors. Fire-retardant roofing should be used whenever possible.

DISTURBED SLEEP

Is Nature's Danger Signal

Anna F. Dearborn, Pittsfield, N. H., says, "I will tell or write my complete experience with Lithiated Bicarb. (Kaler Formula). How I was afflicted with bladder weakness for 40 years disturbed me 6 to 10 times each night." It acts on bladder as epson salts do on bowels. Drives out foreign deposits and lessens excessive acidity. This relieves the irritation that causes getting up nights. THE NEW OAKLAND

GENERAL MOTORS' Lowest-priced Eight—

$1045 AND UP

Three years of actual designing and testing preceded the announcement of the New Oakland Eight. In addition it incorporates General Motors' sixteen years' experience in building fine eight-cylinder automobiles.

The New Oakland has an 85-horsepower engine. This is the highest power ever employed in a car of Oakland's size and weight, racing cars excepted. Oakland develops one horsepower to 37 pounds of car weight. That is the reason for its superior performance.

With its high speed and fast acceleration, the new Oakland combines the smoothness inherent in eight-cylinder design. This smoothness is intensified by its complete down-draft fuel distribution and other exclusive features.

Only a close inspection and a demonstration will enable you to understand fully the many advantages provided by the New Oakland Eight. Come in and see it.

The New Oakland Eight, $1045 and up. f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Lowjoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers included in list prices. Bumpers, rear fender guards and spring covers extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Smart new bodies by Fisher make the New Series Big Six a more beautiful Pontiac. Pontiac's smoothness is increased by a new type of rubber sub-ports for its 60-horsepower engine. Improved four-wheel brakes and a new sloping non-glare windshield add to the car's safety. With these and other improvements Pontiac offers all of its basic big car excellence.

Come in. Let us show you the many advantages provided by this finer car with a famous name.

The New Series Pontiac Big Six, $745 and up. f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Shock absorbers standard equipment. Bumpers and spring covers at slight extra cost. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

"To dash along the road blithely as youth are wont to do—talking and paying little attention to the highway is not the thing. The most dangerous combination on earth is a roadster, a boy, a girl and a kissing bee. Every couple found hugging in an automobile in motion should be brought to court and fined. Every girl who cannot ride comfortably unless she has her head on the driver's shoulder and her feet in his lap, should be fined twice."

"State Police will do well to say nothing and make arrests for careless driving—taking these impatient evidences of flaming youth as prima facie evidence. We would not give the case away; for the newspapers will make too many funny cracks about it—just careless driving; they will know. About $10 and costs—send for papa. Motto—watch the road and not the girl."

"Forty-five miles an hour is not speed; madness when a careless watchman is at the wheel. It is dangerous when carelessness and inattention to the road are at the wheel."

George J. Stobie Speaks on Fishing In Maine

A state-wide program which will put Maine's famous fishing on a new basis of propagation and conservation, increasing by more than seven times, within the next five years, the supply of sporting fish now being raised in the Pine Tree State, was disclosed here by George J. Stobie, Commissioner of Inland Fish and Game of Maine, in a speech before the Massachusetts Fish and Game Association at the Hotel Statler, recently.

Three large feeding stations in Aroostook and Washington Counties which will take care of 650,000 trout and salmon, two in two other counties which will each handle between 500,000 and 600,000 fish annually, another on the shores of Moosehead Lake which will accommodate some 500,000 trout and salmon and two other stations in Somerset and Kennebec Counties are among the building projects announced by Commissioner Stobie. A revival of the bass fishing for which Maine has been so celebrated is also included in the Commissioner's five year program, along with an elaborate system of rearing pools, of which seventy-five have been completed in the last six months of Commissioner Stobie's administration.

Pollution of waters and lack of fish ways on dams is one of the conditions which the Commissioner has been most active in correcting. Along the Maine coast, 2,465 lakes and 6,151 rivers and streams which are practically all spring-fed and ideal for trout, salmon and bass, if kept in good condition, will produce millions of fish annually.

"Fish hatcheries in the State of Maine were started many years ago," said Commissioner Stobie. "They were started with two ideas in mind—hatching of the eggs and planting of fry. Many of the hatcheries were erected on waters which are not suitable for the raising of fish larger than the fry stage. There is now necessary, as Maine intends to go on with a program of planting more and larger fish each year, that we build feeding stations on waters suitable for the raising of larger fish, and that we drill wells to remedy conditions at these hatcheries as they now are."

"Maine has this year completed three large feeding stations in Aroostook and Washington Counties, which will make them more efficient, and which will take care of 650,000 trout and salmon. These have been located on spring-fed streams where the water conditions are ideal for the raising of trout and salmon."

"Two others are in process of construction, one in the County of Franklin and one in York. These will be completed in the early spring, and it is expected that they will take care of between 500,000 and 600,000 fish. Another large feeding station will be built on the shores of Moosehead Lake, in which we hope to be able to take care of 500,000 trout and salmon; also one in Somerset and Kennebec Counties."

"As soon as suitable water conditions can be found in other counties, feeding stations will be built so that, in five years time, if our program of fish propagation continues, we shall be planting seven times as many fish as we planted in 1923."

"In talking with natives of the State of Maine about fishing, you will find that our minds run mostly to trout and salmon and the state has raised only trout and salmon. But today we are beginning to feel the need of bass propagation. We find out non-resident sportsmen are calling for bass. In the last year we did some experimenting at the Belgrade hatchery with very good success. In 1929, in cooperation with the Oxbow, Sebasticus and Game Association of Augusta, we shall experiment further at the Hill Hatchery at North Augusta. In a few years we hope to be planting at least 1,000,000 two-year old bass in our lakes."

"We have since July 1 completed seventy-five rearing pools, and it is our plan now to have 100 more completed by July 1 next, making 175 rearing pools built during our first fiscal year."

"Improvement of the Maine warden force by new legislation and partial reorganization of the system is proving its worth, Commissioner Stobie asserted as shown by the increased number of convictions of offenders against the fish and game laws. It is a common occurrence, he said, for the state now to secure 100 convictions in a month's time, where under the old system 400 or 500 cases a year were looked upon as a large number of convictions."

"The State of Maine is divided into seventy-six warden districts, with a deputy warden patrolling each district. These deputy wardens work under the direction of twelve chief wardens, and the twelve chief wardens are under the supervision of two warden supervisors, one being in charge of the northern counties of the state, the other having charge of the southern counties. The warden supervisors are directly responsible to the Commissioner for the warden force. Game inspectors and special deputies are under the control of the chief warden of the district in which they are working."

"Under new laws passed by the last Legislature, Game Wardens in the State of Maine are now required to give full time to their duties. No warden is allowed to receive compensation from any other form of work except that as game warden. This has done away with many of the old time wardens who used to run stores and farms, and even lumber camps, along with their warden work. Wardens in Maine are also instructed that they shall take no part in political campaigns. They have the right, as other citizens do, to vote as they please, but not to act as agent or in any way give any help to office seekers in our State."

"We do not believe that we have yet solved the warden problem in the State of Maine, but we feel that we are on the right track and that our warden force will become more efficient as time goes on. Many of our wardens need some form of education in their work, and this is a matter upon which we are continually working."

"The warden force in Maine has many things to contend with. There are six hundred miles of border line between Maine and Canada. I suppose many of you are well acquainted with conditions on the Canadian side. There are few wardens in Quebec and New Brunswick, and we receive very little cooperation from the Canadian side in catching Fish and Game law violators. If Maine had one hundred wardens on the border line alone, it would not be sufficient to stop Canadian poachers from stealing fish and game from the State of Maine."

"We have yet many laws on our statutes that are not suitable for the protection of game. The law allowing night hunting throughout our State for the whole hunting season has, in my belief, increased the jacking of deer to a very large extent. It was nothing unusual this fall for a warden to pick up night hunters who were carrying shotguns unloaded but who without doubt had ball cartridges or buckshot in their pockets ready to put in whenever a deer was seen. This became very discouraging to the wardens as they would have many cases of jacking reported and on investigation would find conditions of this kind."

"I believe that this law could be remedied somewhat by making it illegal to night-hunt unless accompanied by a dog. I also believe that only certain counties of the State should be opened to night hunting, as our northern counties do not contain coons in large enough numbers to make it even sport to hunt them in the night."

"Fish and Game conditions are improving every month in Maine. Due to lack of funds, the State of Maine for many years has handicapped in fish and game propagation and law enforcement. July 1st, of the year 1929, the Department of Inland Fisheries and Game started the fiscal year with an appropriation of $185,000 and with an income from all fishing and hunting licenses, fur farming licenses, etc., the department will have close to $400,000 per year. This means that we will now be able to maintain a much larger warden force, and our hatcheries will be built to a larger production. It shall be in a position to stock our lakes and ponds with much larger fish and also to do away with restrictions now placed on many of our lakes and streams."

"The game of Maine has only in recent years come into proper focus as a State asset, said the Commissioner. Not only are they essential to the recreational needs of our citizens, but also they are the means of bringing in a large revenue to the people of the State. While it will take time to educate Maine people to the real value of fish and game to the State, I believe it is worth while for our department and also for all the Fish and Game Associations in the State to take a hand in it. This is something that we cannot hope to do in a year's time. It will take many years to accomplish, but I believe that eventually it can be done."

"Boasts of our fish and game posers no longer go unchallenged. When I was a boy, the heroes in the different towns were the men who could shoot the most deer or catch the most fish. Today these men have to be very careful where they make statements in regard to their killings of fish and game. I believe a great deal of this change of feeling is due to the Fish and Game Clubs throughout the State."

BUILDER OF CHAMPIONS

Mrs. Lillian Morse and daughter, Margaret, have returned to Waterford and plan to spend the rest of the winter in their home. It seems very cheery indeed to see these houses open in the winter time.

Miss Baird came home on Wednesday of last week and will spend the remainder of the winter in town.

The snow storm of Saturday called out the tractor to plow the roads. The tractors and snow plows certainly make fine roads and cars can go almost anywhere in winter nowadays, as soon as a storm clears so that the tractors can get in the work.

The temperature ranged from 15 to 35 degrees below zero, Monday morning.

THE RADIO AGE

In this age of radio, when everybody and his family are ardent radio fans, where, may we ask, is Fryeburg? Why is not this bustling burg represented on the air? Fryeburg, which is acknowledged to be first, fairest and finest. With an up-to-date broadcasting station, we could add FOREMOST without being deemed boasting.

The location is superb. The station could be on Pine Hill, or perhaps the towers of the ponderous Pilver building would serve better for the purpose. We would gladly co-operate in any way to bring this about, even as far as to help the prima-donnas up and down the tiresome stairs, until an elevator could be installed, and what could be more charming than a restful studio, commanding a view of the beautiful valleys through which Corn Shop Brook meanders tranquilly past the Rice Hotel.

But neither town pride, or an admirable location, are the main reasons that we are sponsoring this worthy project. Our object is far greater. It is to tell the story of Fryeburg, which is the tale of the town, and of the people who live there, within the limits of this beloved township of ours; or within the confines of Greater Fryeburg, which includes Last Brownfield, Mendon, and Nebraska, and Nigger Corner, and embraces parts of the Bag End, Mud City and Stow. From this galaxy of unbridled stars, we would choose "Judge" Mason as announcer.

Besides introducing the artists and presiding over the microphone in his inimitable manner, he could "Pinch-hit" occasionally as a speaker, discussing topics of the day, ranging from parlor horse shoes to presidential possibilities or impossibilities as the case might be, and quote facts and figures to back up statements or carry a point.

Guy Whitney could forecast the weather; "Hot ain't it," and Frank Mark would be the one chosen to give a critique of the local market, entitled, "Wails from Wall St." I mean to say, Wall St.

The Mud City Band would render selections bi-weekly. We hope that this band was instituted prior to Prior's. The Brownfield (aunt) Band would also be invited to help enliven the program.

They've tried hard to entice Fryeburg, but of course there ARE impossible tasks, but of course there ARE impossible tasks. "W. 'Birdy' Barnes might be induced to narrate a few episodes of his adventures, with his six girls, in the wild and woolly west, and I wish to add, side note to put on these thrilling tales, as the extremely created might prove fatal to some spell-bound members of the invisible audience, who did not possess strong heart and nerves."

"Lew" Danforth could come up from Brownfield to do his monologue; or he could talk into the "micro" from there, if the wind was right. We don't know much about wave lengths, but we would guarantee that California could pick "Lew" out of the air with a crystal set. Or course we would have to put on the Anvil Chorus from Alcott's smithey.

The question whether modern improvements had helped or hindered the worship of God was discussed at the Harbor Epworth League on Friday. A business session followed the study period, and the evening wound up with ping-pong, checkers and other games.

THE UNCONSCIOUS ARSONIST

Some millions of Americans are unconscious arsonists. This is a startling statement, and any one of the millions would deny it. Yet it is true. None of them purposely set fires. But all of them, through ignorance or carelessness, unconsciously start fires.

The difference between the man who consciously fires a house, and the man who allows wiring to go unattended, throws old soaked rags in corners or drops his matches and cigarettes wherever he happens to finish with them, is one of law and motive, not of effect.

We are, with increasing success, fighting the active arsonist, and when he is caught, he is imprisoned for long terms. The unconscious arsonist, beyond the law and destroys more lives and property than the deliberate arsonist.

Every fire hazard imperils the entire community. A fire starting in a disused garage may destroy a million dollar factory. Are you an unconscious arsonist?

Rumford witnessed another fire Sunday morning at 12:05 which called out the whole fire department for a fire in the A. J. Patmaude block at River and Exchange Streets. It is estimated the loss is around $10,000.

At the meeting of O. E. S., Thursday evening, the following officers were installed by Past Matron, Mrs. C. E. Smith, assisted by Mrs. Frances Hill as marshals:

Oxford 24; West Paris 6

Oxford High School boys led in every department during the basketball game here, Friday night. The visitors rushed the sphere on the start and had West Paris cornered 16-8 at the end of the half. The home boys limbered up in the last half and doubled their points while Oxford was held to one-half the score made in the opening frame. This session closed with the tally 24-6. Only eight personal fouls were called during the game and but two baskets on free-try line were captured.

HEART" of Heatrola

The biggest reason for Heatrola's success is found inside its beautiful cabinet. It is the Intensi-Fire Air Duct, a unique device built right in the path of the flames to block heat that ordinarily escapes up the chimney. It is the "heart" of Heatrola's warm-air circulating system—it means whole-house warmth at the fuel cost of a single stove.

You'll find the Intensi-Fire Air Duct only in the genuine Estate Heatrola. And you'll find the Heatrola only at this store. See the complete line now on display—including the striking new 6-D. There's a size to suit every requirement.
